The Scrap Book

At Napoleon's Tomb.

An American was being shown the tomb of Napoleon. As the eloquent guide referred to the various points of interest in connection with the tomb the American paid the greatest attention to all that was said. "This immense sarcophagus," declared the guide, "weighs forty tons. Inside of that, sir, is a steel receptacle weighing twelve tons, and inside of that is a leaden casket, hermetically sealed, weighing over two tons. Inside of that rests a mahogany coffin containing the remains of the great man."

For a moment the American was silent, as if in deep meditation. Then he said: "It seems to me that you've got him all right. If he ever gets out, cable me at my expense."—Success.

OVER AND OVER AGAIN.

Say over again and yet once over again That thou dost love me. Though the word repeated Should seem a "cuckoo song" as thou dost treat it. Remember, never to the hill or plain, Valley and wood, without her cuckoo strain, Comes the fresh spring in all her green completed. Beloved, I and the darkness greeted By a doubtful spirit voice, in that doubt's pain. Cry, "Speak once more—thou lovest!" Who can fear Too many stars, though each in heaven shall roll. Too many flowers, though each shall crown the year? Say thou dost love me, love me, love me—till The silver iterance, only minding, dear, To love me also in silence with thy soul.—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Honesty as Good as Sobriety.

Gear of Iowa was a candidate for congress. The Prohibition sentiment was running high in his district, especially among the Quakers, who held a meeting to which they invited Mr. Gear. He accepted. "We learn," said the chairman to Mr. Gear, "that he does not belong to any temperance society and that he does take a drink when it pleases him." "That is true," replied Mr. Gear without hesitation. "There is very frank," said the Quaker. "I do not like thy habits, but I do like thy honesty. Perhaps we shall be able to vote for thee." And Gear got the Quaker vote.

All He Asked.

Stephen A. Douglas was very demonstrative in his professions of friendship. One day he sat down on Beverly Tucker's knee and, throwing his arm around the Virginian's shoulder, said, "Bev, old boy, I love you."

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap." Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they inferior? Is it economy to spoil your digestion?

The "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook"—containing over 800 most practical and valuable cooking receipts—free to every patron. Send postal card with your full address.

Alum is used in some baking powders and in most of the so-called phosphate powders, because it is cheap, and makes a cheaper powder. But alum is a corrosive which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

"Doughs," said Tucker, "will you always love me?" "Yes, Beverly, I surely will." "But," persisted Tucker, "will you love me when you get to be president?" "Indeed I will. What do you want me to do for you?" "Well," said Tucker, "all I want you to do to then is to pick out some public place and put your arm around my neck just as you are doing now and call me Bev."

Seneca on the Ways of God.

Why does God afflict the best of men with ill health or sorrow or other troubles? Because in the army the most hazardous services are assigned to the bravest soldiers. A general sends his choicest troops to attack the enemy in a midnight ambuscade, to reconnoiter, his line of march or to drive the hostile garrisons from their strong places. No one of these men says as he begins his march, "The general has dealt hardly with me," but "He has judged well of me." Let those who are bidden to suffer what makes the weak and cowardly weep say likewise, "God has thought as worthy subjects on whom to try how much suffering human nature can endure."

Well Up in Geography.

"Where was Christ born?" asked the teacher of Willie. Willie pondered awhile and finally announced: "Mauch Chunk!" "Mauch Chunk!" exclaimed the teacher. "You ought to know better than that. Why, little George knows where Christ was born. Where was Christ born, George?" "Bethlehem!" "That's right," said the teacher. "Well," said Willie, pointing, "I knew it was somewhere on the Lehigh Valley railway!"

Health is Holiness.

Health is the holiness of the body. Girls should be as much ashamed of illness brought on by their own folly as of being whipped by the teacher for disobedience.—Mrs. Cheney.

Absence of Mind.

Dr. Jenkins of Stanford university is head professor of the department of zoology. He is often profoundly absorbed in the problems of his profession.

He was reading one evening after dinner when his wife approached and, touching him on the shoulder, remarked softly, "Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Branner are coming over this evening, so just go upstairs and put on your other coat."

The professor complied without a murmur. An hour later, when the visitors had been in the house some time, the hostess excused herself for a moment and slipped upstairs to see what detained Dr. Jenkins. She found him in bed, calmly sleeping.

"Oh, to be sure, the Branners!" he said when she awakened him. "I'll be right down. I must have forgotten what I came for when I removed my coat, for I kept right on undressing and went to bed."

Dunbar's Resignation.

Paul Laurence Dunbar, while he was dying of consumption, contributed to Lippincott's this sermon of resignation:

Because I had loved so deeply, Because I had loved so long, God in his great compassion Gave me the gift of song. Because I had loved so vainly And sung with such faltering breath, The Master in infinite mercy Offers the boon of death.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 13.—The Rev. W. G. Archer of this city has accepted a call to the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Evansville.

It is related of the mother of the poet Goethe that she happened to receive an invitation to a party when on her deathbed from some one who did not know that she was ill. She thus replied to it: "Mme. Goethe is sorry that she cannot accept your invitation, as she is engaged dying."
